THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

A major function of the Massachusetts AFL/CIO State Council is our legislative activity. Over the last eight years organized labor's record of success in passing laws that benefit workers is well documented.

Our success is possible because of two equally important factors. The first is a hardworking, professional legislative staff, operating under the President that understands both the process and realities of state government. The other is our growing grassroots programs that compliment our staff.

These grassroots programs "The Special Friends" and the Legislature Liaison" are the building blocks that assist our legislative agenda. The "Special Friends" election program is designed to allow the Massachusetts AFL/CIO to run a coordinated campaign with several state representatives and senators races in an election year. The "Special Friends" designation means local union members will be involved at the community level. Our latest effort in a special election September 1987 resulted in a win for Pat Lander (D- Palmer), our newest friend of labor.

The "Legislative Liaison" program is designed to assist our lobbying staff on Beacon Hill. Each local union leader is asked to name a legislative liaison who the Massachusetts AFL/CIO can reach out to for assistance. That help might be letters, phone calls, or even a visit to an elected official.

At the heart of both these programs is the ward grassroots. It means volunteers, union members on all levels that give time, energy and effort above their moral duties. Union volunteers who are not afraid of hard work. Remember it was hard work that won legislation to reform the Workers' Compensation system; won Right to Know Laws; the beginning of a Plant Closing Law; strengthen Health & Safety Regulations and earned the union movement in this state the reputation of being an effective and active voice on Beacon Hill.

In solidarity,

SECRETARY/TREASURER'S MESSAGE

The Massachusetts AFL/CIO and its programs require the involvement of each local union, the solidarity of affiliates with our state council and with other unions. That participation guarantees our growth and continued success.

The National AFL/CIO report on "The Changing Situation of Workers and Their Unions" recognizes the importance of full participation. The Report Committee, made up of national union presidents and labor experts addressed the issue this way:

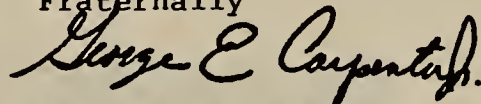

"It is essential in the current climate that Labor's voice be effectively heard at the state level, as well as at the national level. This is the role of the state federations ... at present, the state federations benefit all unions but are funded by only some unions".

In Massachusetts we have the ability to represent our members in the State House, the schools and in our communities, effectively. We have the energy and desire to develop new programs while servicing the existing ones. Our final goal must be to build the solidarity that will provide the resources to continue our good work.

We cannot afford to look back, and we can never rest on past achievements. We can only enhance the working conditions of our members by moving aggressively forward. That movement will come from our affiliates commitment, both financially and actively, to the Massachusetts AFL/CIO.

Massachusetts Labor can take pride in our success, but as Trade Unionists, we know we can achieve much more in the future.

Fraternally

George E. Carpenter, Jr.
Secretary/Treasurer

IT SEEMS THE HARDER WE WORK, THE MORE WORK THERE IS.

At the Massachusetts Convention Center Authority, we are working hard to bring more convention and meeting business to Massachusetts. And more conventions for Massachusetts mean more jobs for Massachusetts. More jobs for electricians, carpenters, projector operators, maids, construction workers, and others. Because each convention that we bring in requires union people to set up, service, run, and to take down. This spring, thousands of new jobs will be realized when work begins on the 142 million dollar renovation of the Hynes Convention Center. And when the new Hynes Convention Center opens in 1988, the future will be even brighter. We will continue to work hard because "Meet Me In Massachusetts" means jobs for Massachusetts.

A newspaper is many things to many people. For some, it's the headlines, commentary, or sports pages; for others, it's the comics, feature stories, or book reviews. For most people, though, it's a daily companion, a primary source of news and information, which keeps them in close touch with the world around them. The Boston Globe is that kind of newspaper.

For more than a century, the Globe has been informing and entertaining the people of New England. But a good newspaper should do more than just compile a daily record of world, national, and local events. A good newspaper should be an active leader in its community. The Globe is that kind of newspaper, too.

In its role as a responsible corporate citizen, the Globe goes far beyond its daily pages of newsprint. It tries to be a positive force in the community – a teacher and leader – by sponsoring many public affairs programs, particularly for young people who will be our leaders of tomorrow. The Globe is proud to originate and sponsor these programs, with the hope they will help to improve the quality of life for all New Englanders.

City, Residents Faring Well in State Lottery

By FRED KARDON
Of The Boston Post

Nobody's happier about the big business the Massachusetts State Lottery than John E. Hooker.

Hooker is executive director of the lottery, which he calls "one of the most successful lotteries in the United States."

While the lottery has done well for Massachusetts, it has done especially well for Worcester.

Last year alone, the lottery returned more than $26 million to the city in the form of lottery fund distributions.

Hooker noted that lottery revenue to cities and towns became even more important after proposition 2 1/2 limited local governments' tax-raising ability.

He doesn't foresee any changes in the way lottery proceeds are distributed.

In 1974, some legislators tried introducing a bill that would waylay lottery funds to the state treasury.

Hooker said, "Once the Mass. Municipal Association got wind of it, that was the end of that idea."

by the city's 100 sales agents — were $26,022,000, according to Hooker, who said that a total of $26,000,000 was returned to the community.

According to Hooker, Worcester residents won a total of $11.4 million last year. The city coffers picked up about $1.6 million in lottery funds.

The numbers statewide are even more impressive, according to Hooker.

"In our first 13 years, we generated more than $1.3 billion... for the cities and towns," Hooker said.

That, it added, is the lottery's primary purpose: to generate money for the state's cities and towns.

AND YOU THOUGHT YOU WERE JUST PLAYING GAMES.

The Lottery is much more than just fun and games. It can be pretty serious stuff. For instance, in 1985 the Lottery returned over a third of a billion dollars to our cities and towns. That's an increase of more than 34% over last year!

And every time you buy a Lottery ticket, you get a chance to become one of the many big winners. Last year, more players won more money than ever before. Including 176 people who became Massachusetts millionaires.

So, the Lottery's not just a chance to win some big money, but also a chance to build a library or clean up our cities and towns.
